

RAYBURN SEES BOOST IN TAX EXEMPTIONS

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

EDITORIAL: It's about time some of the gas is being solidified. Timmo is speaking of all the talk throughout the years about bringing industry to this area.

Men in office and men running for office tell of their stand for industry in southern Illinois, when they are in southern Illinois, at least. Some may be honestly working to bring industry into our area and some may be issuing forth for political effect.

At least, we've been having a lot of gas loosed into the air without result. And we repeat it's about time that we start solidifying it. It can be done scientifically, it should be done economically. We might have to go from gas to liquid to solid, but any way it takes, let's do it.

Right now we see the crying need of new industry more than many times when a move was on. But we have little new to show for our efforts.

Other places are getting new industry. In fact, I was looking over an article in the March issue of Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, which was titled "Did You Ever Move a Factory?" The article tells how it is done and points out that although it is quite a job, it happens fairly often.

It hasn't happened often enough in these parts.

Next time a speaker comes into these parts and brings up the subject of industry, let him not speak in the abstract, but give us something concrete on which to base our hopes.

I ran across one thing on the bright side this week, however, that I'm passing on to you. School enrollment hasn't fallen off in Harrisburg the past year.

I found my information in Russell Malan's City Schools Bulletin. In the eight schools (did you realize there are eight) in the City Schools system the total elementary enrollment was 1,584 in February, 1953? The figure a year ago was 1,519.

So instead of a decreased enrollment, as many might have imagined, we have gained 65.

To break down the totals, we have:

McKinley, 455 now, 451 then.
Horace Mann, 361 now, 361 then.
Junior high, 333 now, 306 then.
Logan, 218 now, 221 then.
Bayliss, 119 now, 114 then.
Lincoln, 37 now, 30 then.
Dorris Heights, 34 now, 37 then.
Liberty, 27 now. (Not in City Schools system last year.)

Seek Missing Bridegroom and Wife's $243,500

STAFFORD, Va. (UP)—Authorities pressed a nationwide hunt today for the missing bridegroom of an elderly Florida socialite who charged he disappeared with her $243,500 and her jewels.

Mrs. Percy William Herman, 67, West Palm Beach, Fla., was reported visiting her brother in Washington, while police investigated her grand larceny charge. She would not talk to reporters.

Police of Alexandria, Va., announced a nationwide alert for the handsome, 49-year-old Herman, a 6-foot, 200-pounder with a crew-cut, who was reported driving a cream-colored 1954 Cadillac convertible.

The FBI said it was studying the case for possible violation of federal law, such as crossing a state line with stolen goods.

Herman was her fourth husband. Her first husband was the late John P. Havens, inventor of a three-wheel pedal carriage called the "afromobile" because it is pedaled by Negroes at Southern resorts.

Mrs. Herman, the former Mrs. Doyll Havens, said the trunk of the car contained $243,500 in a brown leather case and assorted diamond and sapphire pins she was taking on their honeymoon trip to Honolulu, where they planned to live.

Police indicated they had found no trace of the car or her fortune since Friday when she claimed Herman left her stranded at a motel north of Fredericksburg, Va., on a pretext of taking the car to a garage.

Water, Tear Gas Break Up Cook County Jail Riot

19 Prisoners Show Animal Courage in Resisting Captors

CHICAGO (UP)—A county jail riot by 19 hard-shelled hoodlums was broken up by tons of fire hose water and volleys of tear gas Wednesday night—but not until the rioters gave their captors a lesson in animal courage.

The prisoners, including a condemned murderer and an incorrigible 16-year-old boy, huddled under blankets in the barricaded day-room of the huge jail for hours as water slammed into the cell and bombs of extra-strong tear gas exploded almost in their faces.

Even the picked officers storming the dayroom, a recreation cell, were sickened or overcome by the gas. A news photographer walked into the room after the riot was quelled at 9:45 p. m. and collapsed.

The doomed murderer, Paul Crump, 23, who is scheduled to die in the county jail's own electric chair May 14, screamed defiance even after his companions' will had been broken.

Blame Riot on Overcrowding

"Let me die here," he cried as he fought with guards who dragged him from the wrecked dayroom.

Eight of the rioters were federal prisoners, including a gunman soon to begin a 30-year bank robbery sentence at Alcatraz, and the FBI entered the case today to determine what should be done with the federal prisoners.

Warden M. Phillip Scanlan and Patrick Touhy, chief of the sheriff's police, blamed the riot on "terrible overcrowding" at the jail. Its capacity is 1,305 inmates, but it currently houses 1,976 prisoners.

Sheriff John Babb led a squad of nine picked men, bearing metal shields and gas guns and wearing gas masks, in the final assault that crushed the riot. But before the job was done Babb, himself, reeled back from the dayroom area, sickened by the tear gas.

The riot began at 2 p. m. when guards in tier G-3, maximum security section for the big jail's most dangerous men, found bank robber Stanley Tryanowski trying to pry loose a panel controlling cell blocks. It was believed the prisoners may have been starting a jail break.

Barricaded Dayroom
When guards began a "shake-down" of the 28 men in G-3 to find the tool—believed to be a spoon—used to pry the panel, the prisoners went wild.

They bolted for the dayroom, a recreation cell, and barricaded it with mattresses and blankets. Then they smashed all the furniture in the 20-by-20 dayroom. Meanwhile, 10 of the prisoners gave up and returned to their cells.

The first wave of guards sent to crush the rebellion fell back defeated. Four guards were injured by a shower of wood, glass and other articles hurled by the shouting, cursing rioters.

The rioters barricaded in the dayroom stronghold included 16-year-old Robert Bass, a boy held for armed robbery. Among the ringleaders were Al Bartkus, a 25-year-old tough charged with bank robbery. Tryanowski, the man facing a 50-year term on the "Rock," was a ringleader.

Joe Mazurko, a photographer for the Chicago American, a heart newspaper, collapsed from what was apparently a heart attack caused by the tear gas. A Chicago Tribune reporter was credited with perhaps saving his life by giving him artificial respiration immediately.

Eisenhower Names Charles S. Thomas Navy Secretary

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Assistant Defense Secretary Charles S. Thomas to be secretary of the navy.

Thomas will succeed Robert B. Anderson as navy secretary. Anderson has been named to succeed Roger M. Kyes as deputy defense secretary. Kyes has resigned, effective May 1.

The switches, if confirmed by the Senate, will take place May 1.

Thomas, of Los Angeles, formerly headed a West Coast chain of clothing stores. He served as undersecretary of the navy for the first five months of the Eisenhower administration last year, then was made assistant defense secretary for supply and logistics.

Thomas, 56, has served in naval aviation in World War I and was a special assistant first to the assistant navy secretary for air and later to the late Navy Secretary James Forrestal in World War II.

U. S. Withdrawing Air Force Units From Korea

OSAN, Korea (UP)—American Air Force units are being withdrawn from Korea to be modernized for a continuing but possibly long distance defense of this country, the 5th Air Force commander revealed today.

Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson said he is prepared to go ahead with a plan to re-equip his 5th Air Force as soon as he gets word from Washington.

One squadron has been transferred to Japan and others have been transferred from Korea permanently, he said.

Anderson said they will not be returned. He pointed out that according to the armistice agreement, new and improved equipment cannot be brought into Korea.

As a result of that ruling most of the 5th Air Force will eventually have to leave Korea if it is to keep up with the pace of modern air warfare.

Colonel Tells Of Reasons for False Confession

WASHINGTON (UP)—Col. Frank H. Schwable said today solitary confinement, constant interrogation, and a sense of futility led him to confess falsely to Communist charges of waging germ warfare.

"My judgment became warped," Schwable told a Marine court of inquiry. "I didn't think then I was losing my sense of judgment. I thought I could think out things fairly well."

The 45-year-old Marine aviator recounted in detail the treatment dealt him by Chinese and North Korean captors during 14 months imprisonment.

The court of inquiry is seeking to determine whether Schwable should be disciplined for the "confession" which he later repudiated. Schwable said the 24-page explanation he wrote for Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Marine Corps commandant, immediately on his return home, is "true to the best of my knowledge." He said the statement omitted some details because details sometimes "sound like excuses."

Not Subjected to Torture

"I wouldn't make any excuses to the commandant," Schwable said, "and I won't make any excuses now."

Schwable put special emphasis on his reiteration of that: "I was not subjected to physical torture—in the sense of brutality." "Perhaps," he went on, "I would have been more fortunate if I had. That is something people seem to understand. Mine was more subtle."

From the outset, Schwable said, the Chinese Reds gave him "a feeling of the futility of resistance." He said he came to feel "the greatest thing" that could happen to him would be to become "a real prisoner of war" so that he would be in a camp with fellow Americans.

Instead, he said, he was held for the entire 14 months in close solitary confinement with a guard always only a few feet away. He said it was a privilege to be in front of his hut to sweep away the dirt.

Jaycees to Canvass Business District For Blood Donors

Teams of solicitors from the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will be canvassing the business district for Red Cross blood donors today, tomorrow, and Saturday, in an effort to help Saline county meet the Bloodmobile quota for the first time.

The Jaycees, in teams of two, will call on business houses around the square and contact each employee to urge him or her to give blood when the Bloodmobile visits Saline county next week. In cooperation with the Merchants' Association, which voted unanimously last week to allow employees time off to donate blood, the Jaycees will ask each employee to donate, and make appointments with them for their Bloodmobile visit.

Bob Davenport reported at last night's Jaycee meeting that this forthcoming Bloodmobile visit is the "do or die" trip as far as Saline county is concerned, since the quota must be met this time or the county will lose its membership in the Red Cross blood bank.

He added that the Jaycees' effort, combined with the residential canvass now being conducted, could well provide the required number of donors for the first time.

Study Plan for Consumers to Buy Gov't Butter

Benson May Announce Proposal Soon; See Further Dairy Cuts

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today he may announce Monday a new plan to encourage consumers to buy some of the vast government-owned stocks of surplus butter—presumably at cut-rate prices.

It was understood the plan will provide for a second cut in butter prices, in addition to the 8 cents a pound drop Benson has promised for April 1 when lower dairy price supports go into force.

Benson said he definitely will announce the disposal plan before April 1. He would not discuss details with newsmen. But he said he personally believes it only "fair" to dispose of the surplus dairy products in a way that would give consumers and taxpayers a break.

Taxpayers Should Benefit

"That should be only fair to taxpayers," he said. "They have their money in it. Why shouldn't they benefit?"

There was no indication how much butter prices might be cut by the new plan. But the reduction presumably would have to be substantial to result in moving much of the government surplus. The surplus now amounts to 302 million pounds—or almost two pounds for every man, woman and child in the country.

In addition to the butter, the government holds 280 million pounds of cheese and 548 million pounds of dried skim milk.

It has acquired these products under a price-propping program calculated to assure dairymen a price equal to 90 per cent of the parity price. Benson has ordered the support cut to 75 per cent of parity, effective April 1.

Benson was questioned by newsmen after he testified at a two-hour hearing before the House Agriculture Committee in defense of the administration's controversial plan for flexible price supports for basic field crops.

Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.) predicted earlier that the farm bloc has enough votes to enact legislation continuing high price supports on basic crops over a presidential veto.

Accounts Vary As to Cause Of Rail Accident

CHICAGO (UP)—Investigators from the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad and the Pennsylvania Railroad planned separate investigations today of a collision in Union Station that injured 34 persons, none of them seriously.

During the confusion of helping the injured, Sgt. John Malloy, 55, a veteran of 25 years on the Union Station police force, collapsed and died of a heart attack.

The Burlington's Minneapolis Zephyr, which was empty, collided with the Pennsylvania line's Liberty Limited, bound on its regular run to Baltimore and Washington.

The rear of the Zephyr and the engine of the Liberty Limited collided. The Zephyr was backing into the Union Station preparatory to loading passengers for its run to Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Accounts of the accident, which scattered passengers in the Limited around like tenpins, varied.

A Pennsylvania spokesman said the engineer on the Limited reported he had a clear signal to leave the station and could see two clear signals ahead of the Limited.

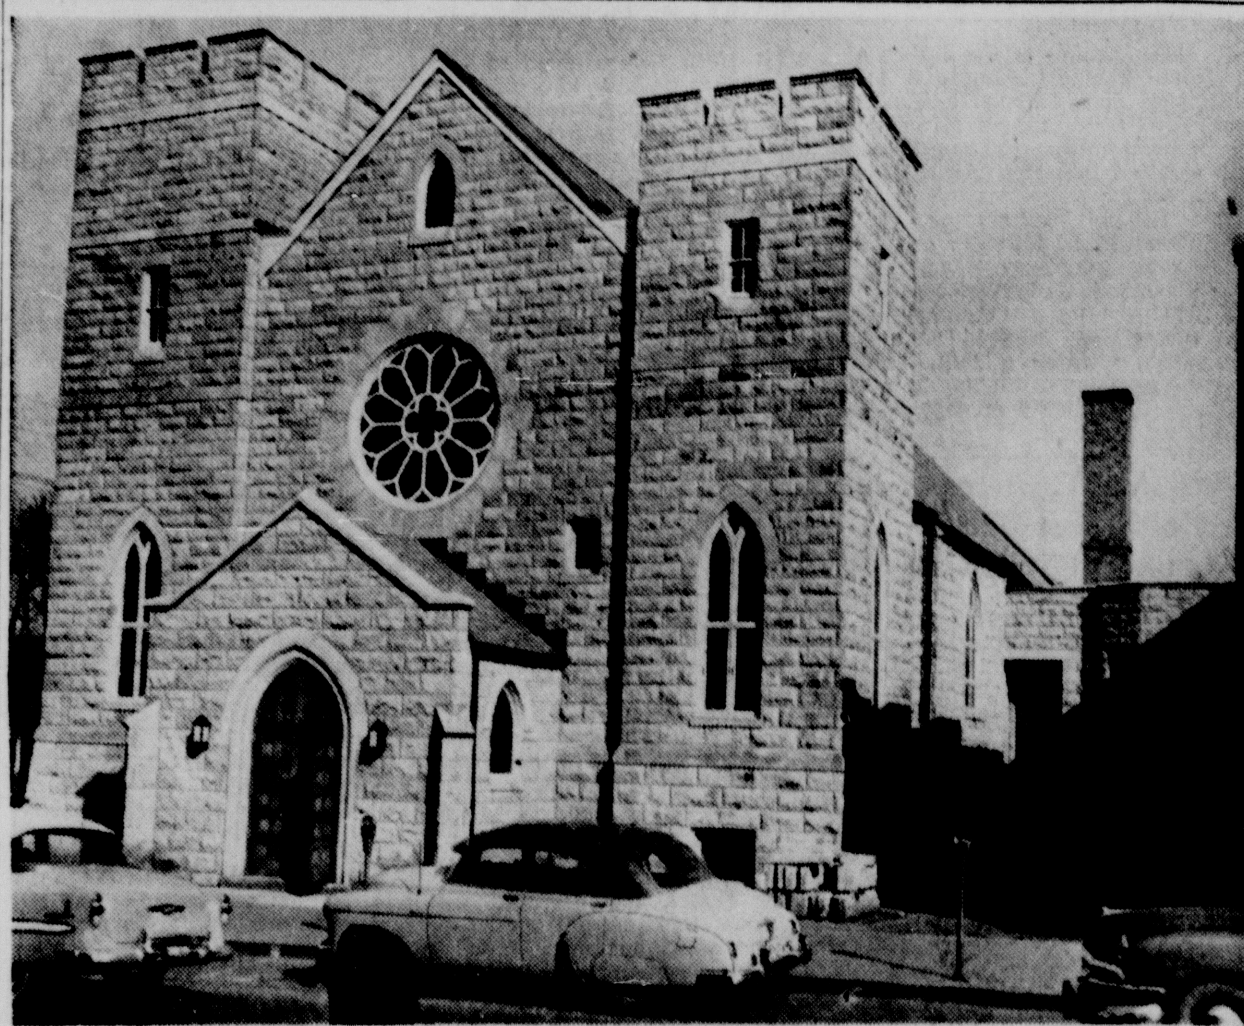

The engineer, Stuart A. Ayres, Fort Wayne, was injured in the crash.

The Pennsylvania official claimed the Zephyr apparently failed to observe a stop signal approximately 150 feet south of the collision scene.

A statement from the Burlington, however, said the Zephyr had seen and observed the stop signal and had stopped with its brakes set.

The crash occurred at a cross-over where the Limited usually cuts across the path of the incoming Zephyr.

A porter on the Zephyr said he could see the Limited bearing down on the Burlington train and threw himself flat on the floor of the parlor car as the Limited plowed into the Zephyr.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Harrisburg, is nearing completion following destruction of building by fire in January, 1953. Exterior work is practically completed, the basement is at a stage where it can be used and work on the main auditorium and other rooms upstairs is progressing nicely. Painting the walls and installation of the pipe organ is main work being accomplished at present. Plans call for using the church for worship services by Easter Sunday. Services are being planned for each evening of the week following Easter, with the building to be dedicated Sunday, April 25. All living former pastors of the church have been invited to be present and participate in the special services. (Register Staff Photo)

Wyman's Candidacy for Senate Supported by 2 Chicago Papers

CHICAGO (UP)—Two Chicago daily newspapers today supported Austin L. Wyman for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator.

The Chicago Daily News and the Chicago Sun-Times recommended Wyman, former head of the Chicago Crime Commission, over eight other candidates in the GOP primary.

Both said that Wyman was a sincere supporter of President Eisenhower. Both newspapers supported Mr. Eisenhower in his campaign for the presidency.

The Sun-Times editorial said "Wyman is an Eisenhower Republican—with no ifs, ands, or buts. He stands squarely behind the President on foreign and domestic policies."

The Daily News editorial said that Wyman, if elected, "will not be a rubber stamp for the President, for any party boss, or for any newspaper. But he will not be trying to sabotage his own party or undermine the President."

(Wyman) wants to have his (Eisenhower's administration) succeed."

The Daily News did not comment on the other candidates. The Sun-Times said neither Joseph Meek nor Park Livingston have a war record, which Wyman has in World War I, to put up against that of Sen. Paul Douglas, Democratic incumbent who is unopposed in his campaign for reelection.

Douglas was wounded twice in World War II.

The Sun-Times said that the political views of Edward A. Hayes, former commander of the American Legion, "are closer to those of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy than to President Eisenhower."

"Julius Klein," the Sun-Times said, "was a combat general in World War II, but he does not measure up to Wyman's civic stature."

Meanwhile, the Citizens for Eisenhower Primary Committee planned to raise funds to buy television time for Wyman.

John Nuveen, an investment banker, was appointed treasurer of the committee. He announced the fund drive.

Alderman Herbert F. Geisler of Chicago's 34th Ward, who also identifies himself as an "Eisenhower Republican," said that he has arranged for television appearances in Chicago, Rock Island, Rockford, Champaign, Bloomington, Peoria, Decatur, Springfield

Issue Permits for Three Oil Tests

The George & Wraith Oil Co. of Mt. Carmel has received permits for two oil tests in Raleigh township and John Stelle Associates of Harrisburg have one for a test in Eldorado township.

The Wraith permits are for: The Boswell No. 1, to be drilled to the McClosky in the NE corner of the SE quarter of the SW quarter of Section 2, Township 8S Range 6E; and the Rhine No. 1, to the McClosky in the SW corner of the NW quarter of the NE quarter of Section 2, Township 8S Range 6E.

and Danville.

Joseph T. Meek, campaigning at Ottawa Wednesday night, challenged his rivals to be "more specific" on their stands.

Meek charged that some candidates "stand firmly in the reflected light" of the White House, some follow the policies of the late Sen. Robert Taft, and some agree—but not always—with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

"When they feel he (McCarthy) has made some utterance of earth-shaking import they immediately boom out their approval," Meek said. "If he is in difficulties they they promptly forget his existence."

At Decatur, Edward A. Hayes defended Gov. William G. Stratton for attacking Sen. Paul H. Douglas (R-Ill.) in a recent controversy over interpretation of state sales tax figures. Douglas claimed that the tax receipts fell 33 per cent from January, 1953, to January, 1954. The governor said Douglas was wrong.

"I brand him (Douglas) a 'twistorian' of facts designed to gain political advantage," Hayes said.

The New Trier Township Republican organization in a suburban area north of Chicago announced that it has endorsed Wyman in the campaign.

Austin L. Wyman, Chicago, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator from Illinois, was in Harrisburg Wednesday night, and made a political address over television station WSIL.

Wyman was introduced by Deane Watson, formerly of Harrisburg and Golconda, whose name also will be on the Republican primary ballot for U. S. Senator, but who has announced he has withdrawn his active candidacy in favor of Mr. Wyman.

Mr. Wyman is a resident of Chicago, a leader of the Chicago Crime Commission, and a civic leader. His candidacy was endorsed today by the Chicago Daily News and Sun-Times.

Nine men are now actively seeking the Republican nomination for senator.

Political observers believe the stronger candidates are Ed Hayes, Park Livingston, Joe Meek and Mr. Wyman. Governor Stratton has indicated a hands-off policy in the primary, and there has been no outward indication his administration forces will actively support any candidate.

Predicts House Passage of Demo Proposal

Senate Braces For Administration Fight on Excise Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn predicted today that enough Republicans will support a Democratic proposal for a $100 increase in personal income tax exemptions to assure House approval next week.

Rayburn made the prediction after a meeting of Democrats discussed the proposal to boost exemptions from $600 to $700.

"I think it will be approved," Rayburn said, adding that he expects "mighty few, if any" Democrats to oppose it.

But Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. doesn't think so. He conceded that if Democrats vote solidly for the $100 increase it probably will be approved. He added, however, that he believes "there are enough responsible Democrats" to defeat the proposed increase.

The conflicting predictions came on the heels of House approval Wednesday of an administration-opposed plan to cut federal excise taxes by almost one billion dollars a year. The excise tax reduction bill is expected to pass the Senate with little, if any, change.

Administration Fights Cuts

Senators braced, however, for a last-ditch administration fight to block the cuts, or at least to reduce them to soften the loss of revenue.

The Senate Finance Committee is expected to meet Friday to decide whether to hold hearings on the House-approved bill. The committee—and the Senate itself—will be working against an April 1 deadline, since some of the present excise taxes slated for continuance under the bill are scheduled to expire on that date under present law.

President Eisenhower will make a nationwide radio and television speech Monday night to explain the administration's standard against the tax-cutting drive in Congress.

House Democrats proposed to try to tie the $100 exemption increase to a second bill. This second bill, which has the support of Mr. Eisenhower and officials of his administration, would revise the whole federal tax code with a savings to individuals and business of an estimated $1,379,000 a year.

Critical of Measure

Democrats are particularly critical of one section of this tax reform measure—a plan under which individuals who receive income from dividends would get a special tax break. Under this plan, persons receiving dividend income would get a special tax credit of 5 per cent this year and 10 per cent next year.

The Democrats will offer their plan to increase personal exemptions as an alternate to the Republican proposal for special tax treatment of dividend income.

Martin has called a meeting of Republicans for next week to talk over the tax bill.

He hopes to get most Republicans to support the revision bill as approved by the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee.

Late Wednesday the House approved, 411-3, a bill to put a 10 per cent ceiling on excise or federal sales taxes on jewelry, furs, cosmetics, entertainment tickets, telephone bills and travel tickets. These now stand at 15 to 25 per cent.

The cuts, effective April 1, would cost the treasury almost one billion dollars a year. However, this loss would be offset since the bill also cancels about one billion dollars in other excise tax cuts that presently are scheduled to go into effect April 1.

Guard Against Veto

The cancellation would keep excise taxes at present levels on liquor, beer, wines, tobacco, gasoline, automobiles, trucks and other items.

Anxious about loss of revenue, the administration urged cancellation of these scheduled cuts and vigorously opposed any new ones. By combining the cancellation with the new reductions, however, the House guarded its bill against a presidential veto.

The House voted 411-3 for passage of the bill. The only dissenting votes were cast by Democratic Reps. John E. Lyle Jr., (Tex.), Paul C. Jones, (Mo.), and Fred Marshall (Minn.).

In the Senate, Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), senior Democrat on the finance committee, told reporters he expects the bill to go through the Senate with few changes.

It is known Republican leaders share his view, although finance committee chairman Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo.) declined to comment on the outlook.

'Overall' Day Saturday To Overhaul City Hall at Eldorado

It will be "Overall Day" to "overhaul the city hall" at Eldorado Saturday and the Community Development group is making it into a big event.

There will be a parade at 9 a. m. leading to the city hall, where the face-lifting job on the city building will be completed. Volunteers have been working on the project for two and a half months.

The Auxiliaries of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will serve free sandwiches and coffee during the day.

Committee members said that writers from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and St. Louis Post-Dispatch and news reel cameramen will be present Saturday.

Lloyd L. Parker To Retire from Board of HTHS

School elections will be held Saturday, April 10, and most significant news is that Lloyd L. Parker is retiring from the board of education. A Harrisburg Township high school after 21 years of service on the board.

There will be two vacancies on the HTHS board, Mr. Parker's and Bert Gaskins'. Mr. Gaskins is running for reelection and in the race with him is Dr. William J. Blackard. Other members of the board whose terms do not expire are President George O. Davenport, Secretary Frank P. Parker, Dr. W. D. Tuttle, Ed Brantley and Paul Endicott.

In the Harrisburg City Schools district, the terms of Bruce Polk and L. N. Davenport expire, and their petitions for re-election are being circulated. Other members of this board are Hudson Mugge, Vernard Clayton, George Barnes, J. A. Bottomley and Curtis Small.

The last filing date for candidacy for boards of education is March 20.

Boards of director elections also will be held in the smaller school districts of the county but candidates do not file for these posts.

At board of education elections, the polls must be open from 12 noon until 7 p. m. For school director, the polls of the district must be open for at least two hours between noon and 7 p. m.

WGN Offers Free Time to McCarthy

CHICAGO (UP)—Radio station WGN, an affiliate of the Chicago Tribune, today extended an invitation of free air time to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The clear channel station said McCarthy could use the time to answer criticism by Adlai E. Stevenson.

WGN manager Frank P. Schriber said the station would "consent to allow any other radio station to simulcast or rebroadcast the program without restriction."

WGN is affiliated with the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Randolph County Voters Reject New Courthouse

CHESTER, Ill. — Randolph county voters rejected by a margin of about 1,200 votes a proposal to build a $750,000 courthouse here to replace the present building which is more than 100 years old.

There were 3,806 votes for the courthouse bond issue and 5,002 votes against it in Tuesday's referendum. Only seven of 31 precincts favored the bond issue and five of those were in Chester.

The new building would have housed all county offices, courts, and the jail.

File Contempt of Court Charges

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department today brought contempt of court charges against two members of the Schine theater and hotel family, one other individual, and six of their theater companies. It accused them of violating a 1949 anti-trust order of the federal courts.

The department filed criminal and civil contempt proceedings in the U. S. Federal Court in Buffalo, N. Y. Named in the action were J.
Myer Schine, Louis W. Schine and John A. May and the Schine Chain Theaters Inc., and five of its subsidiary corporations.

J. Myer Schine is the father of G. David Schine, formerly a consultant of Sen. Joseph R. McCar-thy's Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee. Young Schine was drafted into the Army last year.

The Schine brothers own and operate about 90 theaters on the Atlantic Seaboard.
In its criminal contempt action,
the Justice Department charged that the Schines, May and the six companies violated a 1949 decree of the court by continuing a conspiracy to maintain monopolies in operating theaters.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Hold Three-Day Assembly at Evansville

More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend a 3-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: McCarthy Cannot Be Appeased; Every Eisenhower Attempt To Please Has Backfired; Senator
Welker Subs For Joe When Joe Plays Sweet.

WASHINGTON — When the Republican party threw a big cheese party for newsmen at the opening of Congress, Joe McCarthy came up to John Foster Dulles, put his arm around his shoulder and said:
"Haven't I been a good boy lately?"

What McCarthy referred to was the fact that he had laid off criticizing the State Department for a few weeks, partly as a result of a compromise agreement patched up with Vice President Nixon in Miami in December.

Nixon had urged McCarthy to lay off the witch-hunting and turn the problem of communism over to Senator Jenner's Internal Security committee where it properly belonged. In turn, Nixon promised that Attorney General Brownell would turn over to McCarthy various cases of alleged graft and inefficiency which Nixon said would reflect on the Truman administration. Thus McCarthy would continue to get the headlines, though probing something that legitimately came under his Government Operations committee.

McCarthy agreed. But no sooner had he returned to Washington, and was asked by newsmen about the agreement, than he denied it.
JOE REMAINS SWEET

Despite the denial, however,
McCarthy did live up to the agreement for about two weeks. Then quietly he handed Senator Welker of Idaho, sometimes called the "Junior McCarthy," a copy of a speech he, McCarthy, had prepared blasting Dulles' law partner, Arthur Dean, then special ambassador for the Korean peace talks.

Probably Secretary Dulles didn't know that the man who put his arm around his shoulder so affectionately at the GOP cheese party was the real author of that speech.

And he may not know it even today.

But McCarthy had prepared the speech as a blast against Dulles last December after the secretary of state had issued the most forthright statement so far made by any Eisenhower cabinet member against McCarthy after his nationwide radio broadcast answering Truman.

Though McCarthy had drafted a hot answer to Dulles, it remained undelivered—thanks to the persuasive and personable Len Hall, Mr.
Hall, the smooth-talking chairman of the Republican National committee, had sweet-talked McCarthy into discarding his blast at Dulles just as he sweet-talked Eisenhower out of blasting McCarthy last week.

But McCarthy kept the text and gave it to Senator Welker who blasted Dulles instead.

APPEASING JOE

The above illustrates the basic problem President Eisenhower faces with Joe McCarthy. He faces first the fact that one wing of the Republican party is definitely, almost avidly, for McCarthy; second, the fact that McCarthy never stays put. He can be appeased one day; and one day later, or even one hour later, he's right back slugging at the man who appeased him.

The President himself and his administration have made no fewer than ten attempts to appease McCarthy beginning back in the days when he was running for President. Here is the roll-call:

Appeasement No. 1 — Prior to McCarthy's Milwaukee speech, Tom Dewey persuaded him to include in the speech two paragraphs critical of McCarthy. When GOP Chairman Summerfield heard of this, he,
with three old guard senators, hired a special plane, caught up with McCarthy's campaign train and talked him out of it. However, Ike wrote into the speech a paragraph praising his old chief, Gen. George Marshall, whom McCarthy had casti-

Rep. C. W. Bishop Asks Bill to Protect Miners of Illinois

Congressman C. W. Bishop, Representative in Congress from the 25th Congressional district of Illinois, has introduced a companion bill to S. 2992, to encourage and assist the production of strategic and critical metals, minerals, and materials in the U. S., and for other purposes.

Congressman Bishop's bill is especially introduced for the protection of coal and fluorspar miners in this district. Miners of both groups are unemployed at the present time as a result of the importation of these strategic materials from foreign fields.

Rep. Bishop states:
"To correct situations such as this I feel that it is absolutely necessary to reestablish a principle in the regulation of import duties on strategic and critical metals, minerals, and materials to provide for fair and reasonable competition between foreign fields and domestic producers. Since it is the policy of the Congress to develop and promote the production of these metals, minerals, and materials within the United States and to relieve the United States from dependency upon foreign areas for such strategic materials, the transportation of which in time of war would be difficult or impossible, it is respectfully requested that favorable consideration be given this legislation."

Talking Birds

Among the birds that can be taught to talk are the piping crows of Australia, the mynah parrot, some species of jays, macaws, and even starlings.

Eldorado's Oldest and Largest

Sec'y Stevens 'Bawled Out' By Eisenhower

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Here are some of the things that happened backstage regarding the much-discus-ed and much-disputed reported resignation of the secretary of the Army.

When the crisis with Senator Mc-Carthy reached a climax, Secretary of the Army Stevens tried to get his chief, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, on the telephone. But Wilson was in Miami on a fishing trip and either was not able or would not take the call. The secretary of the Army tried repeatedly to get the defense chief on the telephone, and was somewhat put out when Wilson did not make himself available.

Failing to get Wilson, Stevens went to acting Secretary of Defense Roger Kyes, whom he does not particularly like. Stevens is most scrupulous about the chain of command, and even though he does not get along well with Kyes he felt it important to clear all decisions with him regarding the Mc-Carthy crisis.

Kyes, incidentally, was among those who thought it might be well for Stevens to resign after the so-called brain-washing session with the four Republican senators. Kyes was not vigorous in giving this advice; he merely stated his opinion when asked. Others around Stevens were more emphatic.

STEVENS DID RESIGN
However, Stevens went to the White House and had a 20-minute session with the President, alone.
This was one day after Stevens had yielded to the four senators and just after McCarthy had publicly rebuked Stevens by proclaiming that he had surrendered. At the White House session, the President gave his secretary of the Army an even tougher bawling out than did McCarthy.

Among other things, Eisenhower told Stevens that he was not adequately running the Army and never had run it.

It was during this stormy day that Stevens submitted his resignation to the White House. The resignation was not accepted, but neither was it returned with a note of rejection. Nor, as of this writing, has it yet been returned.

The reason John F. Kane, assistant to Stevens resigned, in protest against Stevens' treatment by his superiors, was the failure of Secretary Wilson to answer the Army secretary's phone calls to Miami and the bawling out administered by Eisenhower.

It is generally agreed in the Defense Department that Bob Stevens is one of the most sincere and personally patriotic men in the Pentagon but also one of the least politically experienced.

Note — Roger Kyes' resignation had nothing to do with either Stevens or McCarthy, though the sudden announcement made it so appear. Actually, the announcement was scheduled for a week later. But when word reached the White House that this column had distributed the Kyes resignation story, the announcement was rushed out on a Saturday — despite the fact that Washington hates to work on week ends.

McKinley Baptist Daughters Of Ruth Class Has Meeting

Mrs. Clarence Hutchison was hostess Tuesday night to the Daughters of Ruth class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

The meeting opened with the singing of the class song, "Teach Me To Pray," and with prayer by Mrs. George Butler, who also gave an interesting devotion entitled "The Time Is Short."

Roll call was answered by each person telling something for which she was thankful to Christ. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Ben Yarbrough led the closing prayer in which she asked that all might be prayerful concerning the selection of a new pastor for the church.

For the entertainment Mrs. Alfred Swan directed a Bible quiz of which Mrs. R. C. Fritts was the winner.

It was decided that each member send Bob Keltner, who recently underwent major surgery in the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., a card. Mrs. Keltner is a member of the class.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Hutchison, and the assistant hostesses, Mrs. Eldon Vinyard, Mrs. Wayne Newcomb and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough.

Members present included Mrs. Herschel Fritts, Mrs. Harold Pelham, Mrs. Carl Kuppert, Mrs. Ben Yarbrough, Mrs. Wayne Newcomb, Mrs. Wayne Swan, Mrs. Eldon Vinyard, Mrs. George Butler, Mrs. Clarence Hutchison, Mrs. Guy Pankey, Mrs. R. C. Fritts, Mrs. R. H. Davidson, and Mrs. Alfred Swan.

Mrs. Carol Crabb Hostess To McKinley Fidelis Class

The Fidelis Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Carol Crabb, 121 West Lincoln, for the regular meeting with Mrs. Luther Brinkley as the substitute teacher.

Mrs. Denzil Simpson gave the devotion from James 2:14-26 who talked on the "Faithful and Working Christian," expressing the idea that wherever a Christian may go that he be faithful to his cause and working in his church.

During the business session the class planned a meeting for the husbands and friends of the members to be held Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the church basement. The St. Patrick theme is to be carried out in the decorations. The purpose of the supper is for the organization of a young men's class.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Robert Stout, Mrs. Barbara Ramsey, Mrs. Bill Harrison, Mrs. Bill Pankey, Mrs. Denzil Simpson, Mrs. Kenneth Ozmert, Mrs. Doyle Hedger, Mrs. Robert Brinkley, Mrs. Ed Logsdon, and two visitors, Mrs. Jack Robinson and Mrs. J. T. Tanner.

Presbyterian Lenore Circle Meets With Miss Juanita Joiner

Miss Juanita Joiner was hostess Monday evening to 16 members and two guests of the Lenore circle of the Presbyterian church.

Miss Edith Morrison had the Year Book of Prayer devotion, closing with prayer, after which Mrs. Ownley Furman presented the program, "Christ Calls Us," in which she was assisted by Mrs. John Utter, Miss Williamson, Mrs. Chas. Wright, Miss Ada Cable and Mrs. Elvie Gidcomb Jr., who sang as a solo "Through the Night of Doubt and Sorrow." At the close of the program the group joined in singing "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," followed by Mrs. Furman.

In attendance, in addition to those previously mentioned, were Miss Ethel Ewing, Mrs. Mildred Boicourt, Miss Lelle Anderson, Miss Mary Morrison, Mrs. Herman Seifried, Miss Gladys Gaskins, Mrs. Harry Barter, Mrs. Steve Farrar and Mrs. W. H. Stone, a guest.

Immediately following the program, the guests adjourned to the home of Miss Judy Farrar to attend the tea sponsored by the Westminster Fellowship group of the church.

Harrisburg Members Attend Psi Chapter Meeting In Grayville

Psi chapter of Delta Kappa met for a luncheon and regular meeting Saturday, March 6, at "The Old House" in Grayville.

After the workshop for committees, the reports were given and the following officers were elected: Julia Williamson, president; Leola Goedecke, first vice president; Nell Reed, second vice president; Ida Mae Thompson, corresponding secretary; Eula Barker, recording secretary; Corine Jessop, parliamentarian.

The chapter voted to send a letter of thanks to the House Ways and Means committee for its approval on Feb. 17 of a $1200 tax exemption for retirement incomes.

Announcements were made of the Lambda state convention at the Sheraton hotel in St. Louis, Mo., March 19-21, and of the Indiana state convention to be held in Evansville April 2-3.

Members attending from Harrisburg were Misses Olive Dean, Alvina Shestak, Eleanor Eltherton, Mrs. Ida Mae Thompson and Mrs. Bessie Kerley.

Sherry Lynn Aluzas Has Party For Sixth Birthday

Sherry Lynn Aluzas celebrated her sixth birthday with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aluzas, 1260 South Granger.

Ice cream, cake and soft drinks were served for refreshments and balloons and bubble gum were given as favors.

Little Sherry Lynn received gifts from the following: Helen Arbie, Janice Ann Mitchell, Carolyn and Arleen Austin, Beverly Jean Moore, Mrs. Florence Scott, Mrs. Wilma Moore and Mrs. Laverne Aluzas.

Miss Verna Jo Clayton and James Williams to Wed Friday

Miss Verna Jo Clayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernard Clayton, and James D. Williams, son of Rev. Otto Williams and Mrs. Williams of Mt. Vernon, will be married Friday, March 12, at 6:30 p. m. in the First Baptist church. Friends of both families are invited to attend the wedding and reception.

Mrs. John W. Towle Shows Films To Evergreen Club

The Evergreen Garden club held its March meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Travelstead. Roll call was answered by naming wild flowers of Illinois. Mrs. John W. Towle showed colored films of Colonial Williamsburg, showing the gardens and close-ups of the massive flower arrangements in the different homes. She also showed views from some of the club members' gardens in Harrisburg which all enjoyed.

Mrs. Travelstead had several beautiful arrangements of Spring flowers about her home which added much to the occasion. Trays of cookies, candies and Cokes were passed by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Louie Conover and Mrs. George Hensley.

Mrs. Wm. F. Johnson from Eldorado and Mrs. Bill Adams from Panama City, Fla., were especially invited guests.

Robert Maddox Sr. Honored With Birthday Dinner

Robert Maddox Sr., 105 East Ford street, observed a birthday on February 22, but plans for a celebration were delayed until a grandson, Ted Maddox, came home on furlough from an army base in Texas.

The birthday dinner was held Wednesday night at the Maddox home, with the following in attendance:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maddox and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Maddox and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox, Ted Maddox and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maddox Sr.

Mrs. Sally Capel Hill Weds E. E. Ledford

Mrs. Sally Capel Hill of Brushy township and E. E. Ledford of Harrisburg Route 2 were married Monday, March 8, at the First Baptist church parsonage in Murphysboro, the Rev. H. T. Rafel performing the ceremony. They were attended by his daughters and their husbands and one grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Ledford are now living at the bride's home until the home of the husband on Route 2 can be arranged properly. His home is in Harrisburg township a short distance south of Dorrisville south of Route 45.

Salem Group Asks Supreme Court for Return of Church

SPRINGFIELD — Thirty members of the Salem Disciples of Christ asked the Illinois Supreme Court today to order a "dissident" group of members to give them back their church.

The Disciples of Christ, also known as the Christian Church, appealed a Marion county circuit court decision dismissing their request for an injunction against the other church sect.

The members said the other group passed new church by-laws and took over the building without the backing of the majority.

They asked the court to restrain the new "Church of Christ," which is also known as the Christian Church, from using the building and from "molesting or interfering" with the services of the other group.

S. Korea Paper Charges Four U. S. Betrayals

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The government-sponsored newspaper Korean Republic accused the United States today of "selling out or deserting" South Korea at four different times and hinted that another betrayal was in the making.

The full-page editorial was the strongest attack the English language newspaper ever has made on the United States.

The editorial said the armistice broke the pledge of unification and complained that withdrawal of two U. S. divisions while the Communist army is 1,000,000 strong gives a "strong impression" that all United Nations troops will pull out and leave South Korea at the mercy of the Reds.

It complained that much of the 200 million dollars U. S. aid program "will not be spent," and it said the cancellation of U. S. tungsten purchases cuts off 31 million dollars of the 45 million dollars in foreign exchange that Korea gained last year.

The newspaper said the American buildup of Japan was a "terrible and costly mistake" and accused the United States of siding with Japan in the Korea-Japan dispute.

The newspaper listed the four "betrayals" as:

1. "President Theodore Roosevelt's 1905 decision to let the Japanese rule us."
2. "President Woodrow Wilson's failure to extend the self-determination of people to the Far East."
3. "Franklin D. Roosevelt's agreement to the partition of Korea."
4. "President Harry S. Truman's withdrawal of the American Army without any buildup of our defense forces."

Allied Strength Can Prevent War 3: Gruenther

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther believes Allied forces in Europe are strong enough now to prevent a third World War.

The supreme commander for the Allied powers believes his forces are "more than the Russians can handle with the forces they have in occupied Europe." He said they provide a considerable deterrent to "any hot-headed act" by the Soviet Union.

Gruenther gave his appraisal of the present situation in a speech Wednesday night to the closing session of the Philadelphia Bulletin's eighth annual forum.

Other speakers included Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt who pleaded for patience and understanding with allies in the United Nations, and foreign operations administrator Harold E. Stassen who called the recent Big Four Berlin conference "the most successful diplomatic encounter with the Soviet in 10 years."

Stassen said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made the Russians back down on their demands for recognition for Communist China and exposed the Russian "new look" as a "new tyranny, the tyranny of fear."

Gruenther stressed that his view of Russian-Allied strength is based on what the Communists have in occupied Europe.

"We still do not have enough to resist an all out Soviet attack if the Soviet Union should utilize its resources to its full capabilities," he said.

But he looked forward to the time "some three or four years hence" when the Allied cause will be buttressed with the ability to launch atomic attacks by long and short range aircraft, guided missiles and artillery.

Youth Revival To Begin Sunday At Shawneetown

This coming Sunday, March 14, will mark the opening of the youth revival at the First Baptist church in Shawneetown.

The first service will be Sunday morning beginning at 10:45, following Sunday school at 9:45. The Sunday evening service will begin at 7:00 as will the evangelistic services throughout the following week.

This revival will be led by a youth team from the Southern Illinois College of Bible at Carbondale. The young people who make up the youth team for Shawneetown will consist of O. J. Johnson, evangelist, Warren Neil, song leader, Mary Mischaels, conference leader, and Joan Grant, devotional leader.

These young people voluntarily give up their spring vacation from school to lead the youth revivals.

Conferences for the young people will be held preceding each evening service. These conferences will deal with the problems of young people in the world of today and will be under the direction of Joan Grant.

The evangelist, O. J. Johnson, will bring the message each evening, and the devotional program will be under the direction of Mary Mischaels.

Two choirs will participate in the services. Both the youth choir and the adult choir will be under the direction of Warren Neil.

The closing services of the youth revival will be held on Sunday, March 21.

It is stressed that although the revival is youth led it includes everyone and all are urged to attend.

Holy Name Society Holds Meeting

The March meeting of St. Mary's Holy Name society was held Tuesday evening. William Zimmer read the Marian Year prayer of Pope Pius XII that "Christian goodness would quench hatreds and make all men brothers and all nations as members of one family, with a universal and sincere peace, with sanctuary from the anxieties which beset us on every side."

Reports of the several committees were given by the chairman, C. A. E. Hauptmann reported sick visits to two members; John Wentzel noted that twenty members received the Eucharist on the monthly Communion Sunday; William Zimmer reported the group recitation of the rosary at the vigil of a deceased member of the parish.

For the devotion, Dr. J. J. Klein read excerpts from Laufen's "God Keep an Open House." The Holy Name Pledge was given by Frederick Christman.

There was open discussion of some interest in the Boy Scout and Cub Scout programs, and it was decided at the coming Sunday group Communion, to conduct an informal reception ceremony at which members are to be presented medallions on which are engraved the head of the Christ-child to be worn as a public profession of faith in the Divinity of Christ and an act of honor to His Holy Name.

The meeting was closed with group recitation of the Lord's Prayer, after which Walter Gelsosky, Thomas Hauptmann, Don Leech and Dr. J. J. Klein were hosts to refreshments.

Members present were Louis Bobka Sr., Joseph Boyke, Ted Brannock, Fred Christman, Joe Gall, Walter Gelsosky, Carl Hauptmann Sr., Dr. John J. Klein, Don Leech, John Lockwood, John McGuire, John Molinarolo Sr., Bert Patton, Andrew Pekelnicky, John Pesavento, Steve Pfister, Steve Puzsik, Andrew Salus, Bernard

Hays Used Blue Pencil on Stars' Private Lives

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The late Will Hays, the first movie czar, blue-penciled the private lives of the movie stars of the lusty '20's as well as their movies.

Today's censors deal mostly with what appears on the screen. But Hays took a fatherly attitude toward celebrities of the day, and called to task such headline-makers as Tom Mix, Clara Bow, Mary Pickford and Fatty Arbuckle.

Hays was lured from his Washington postmaster's job in 1922 to police the free-wheeling movie industry following the sordid death of dancer Virginia Rappe at a party tossed by Arbuckle. Hays' first act as censor was to bar Arbuckle from the screen. The comedian, as popular then as Bob Hope and Jerry Lewis are today, worked under a false name as a director for a while and finally quit movies.

The first censor made headlines himself when he acted as mediator between Miss Pickford and her estranged husband, Douglas Fairbanks Sr. The famous screen couple got a divorce, anyway.

Miss Harlow was scolded by Hays for her plunging necklines in "Hell's Angels." He clipped some scenes out of that picture, produced by Howard Hughes who's tangled with censors ever since.

Prayed With Tom Mix
Hays once called the party-loving Tom Mix into his office. Mix later told how Hays, a religious man, got the star to get down on his knees and the two men prayed together.

The movie czar is credited with Steinmarch, John Wentzel, Matthew Zimmer, and William Zimmer.

the clause in most stars' contracts giving the studio power to fire them for morality reasons.

Hays' influence also was felt in films. He censored horizontal love scenes and limited the time of kisses. No longer did John Gilbert nip Greta Garbo on the ear.

A view of bathroom plumbing was taken out of a 1924 classic, "Greed." He rejected the script of a Universal picture "Lady of Joy," and forbade the studio ever to use the title. A long shot of French girls bathing in the nude in "All Quiet on the Western Front" landed on the cutting room floor.

Mae West's suggestive ditties were scissored from "She Done Him Wrong" in the early '30's. When Fox remade a 1914 sizzler, "Fool There Was," the once-passionate hero and heroine were so censored they conversed mainly over the telephone.

Saved Industry
The Australian ladybird beetle once saved the citrus industry of the entire California coast. The beetle was introduced in San Francisco to counteract an insect war on the orange and lemon groves and devoured the insects at a tremendous rate.

Nebraska ranks fourth among states of the Union in butter production. No place in England is more than 18 miles from a railway line.

Expect Mightiest Nuclear Blast Between Mar. 15-28
HONOLULU 4p — The mightiest nuclear explosion in history is expected to take place on remote Eniwetok Island in the Pacific sometime between March 15 and 28.

Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission is reported due in the Pacific between those dates. They roughly fit the travel schedules of others known or believed to be among guests invited to witness the tests.

Favorable weather and the absence of some high-ranking guests appeared to be the only factors delaying the test detonation.

The government announced March 1 that the 1954 series of nuclear tests had begun at the Eniwetok (Bikini) Proving Grounds, which already had one of its islands wiped out by the explosion of a hydrogen device in the 1952 tests.

The device to be tested this month is expected to have twice the violence of the 1952 device.

Seven Persons Burn to Death as Fire Levels Home
PLYMOUTH, Ind. 4p—Seven persons were burned to death early today when a fire leveled a two-story frame house at nearby Hibbard.

Authorities said 12 persons were sleeping in the six-room house when the fire broke out at about 3 a. m. Five of them were believed to have escaped.

All but one of the victims were sleeping in bedrooms. The victims included two small children.

The dead were tentatively identified as Mrs. Bessie C. Kovacs, 48, her three sons, Donald, 23, Carl, 19, and Frank Jr., 17; Elizabeth Kovacs, 26, her two children by a former marriage, Michael Quackenbush, 5, and Jeanette Quackenbush, 3.

Elizabeth Kovacs was the wife of Donald.

East St. Louis
Council Accepts
Barcus Kindred Bid

EAST ST. LOUIS (AP)—The City Council Wednesday accepted the low bid of Barcus Kindred & Co., Chicago bond house, of 2 1/2 per cent on $195,000 in judgment refunding bonds.

Barcus Kindred also offered a premium of $196.

The action was taken despite a suit pending in city court to restrain the city from issuing the refunding bonds. The suit, filed by Leo J. Dougherty, local Democratic leader, was continued by Judge Joseph Fleming on a change of venue asked by the city.

Under the plan, the city arranged with its creditors to sue the city and recover judgments for the amounts owed because the treasury is empty. The judgment bonds, issued to the creditors, mature serially through 1965.

Schlundt, Leonard, Kerr, Ebert and Freeman Named To Big Ten All-Star Team

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten champion Indiana and seventh place Ohio State each placed two men on the 1954 All-Conference basketball team picked for United Press by the league's 10 coaches.

Dominating the quintet were Indiana's individual scoring champion, center Don Schlundt, and guard Bob Leonard, each picked for the team for the second consecutive year.

Ohio State's two were forward Paul Ebert, who made the team for the third straight year, and a sophomore sharpshooter, Robin Freeman.

went to Illinois' center, John Kerr, who finished second to Schlundt in scoring.

Leonard Unanimous Choice

Leonard was far the standout of the five. He was named to the first team by every coach and was the only unanimous selection. He made honorable mention on the all-star team as a sophomore and then last year was rated the "quarterback" as the Hoosiers won the national title. This year he finished ninth in conference scoring with an average of 16.9 points per game.

Schlundt, who set a conference scoring record of 459 points in 18 games last year, set a new per game scoring mark this season with an average of 27.1 points while winning the scoring crown with 379 points.

Ebert has been a consistent point maker for the Buckeyes and this year was fourth in league scoring with a 22.9 point per game mark while Kerr, another lanky standout, finished with a 25.9 point average.

Mencel On Second Team

Freeman was rated the best among the large crop of sophomores in the conference this season and averaged 21.2 points per game to finish fifth in the scoring race. He won the fifth position on the team by a close margin over Minnesota's Dick Garmaker.

One of last year's All-Conference players, Chuck Mencel of Minnesota, had a "bad" season and slipped to the second team this year. Although a year ago he was third in scoring in the conference with an 18.2 mark, this year he was 13th with a 14.4 mark.

Mencel, however, made the second team along with Garmaker; Julius McCoy, Michigan State; Carl Cain, Iowa; and Frank Ehmann, Northwestern.

The third team included Dick Cable, Wisconsin; Ed Kalafat, Minnesota; Jim Barron, Michigan; and Bill Logan and Bill Seaberg, Iowa.

Strike by Grave Diggers Halts California Burials

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A grave-diggers' strike that has halted all but emergency burials in northern California's four most populous counties went into its 11th day today, and a mortician's spokesman said it had created a "serious emotional problem."

"You can't measure a thing like this accurately because it's impossible to put a yardstick on human emotions," Atty. Jerome Cahill said. "But the tragedy of this whole situation is the effect it's having on bereaved families."

Cahill, official spokesman for Bay area funeral directors hit by the strike, agreed with civic leaders that there was no immediate health problem because there are enough storage and preservation facilities.

"But the strain on the families has created a serious emotional problem," he said. "Some people have taken it pretty well and have reconciled themselves to the situation, but for others it's been impossible to comprehend."

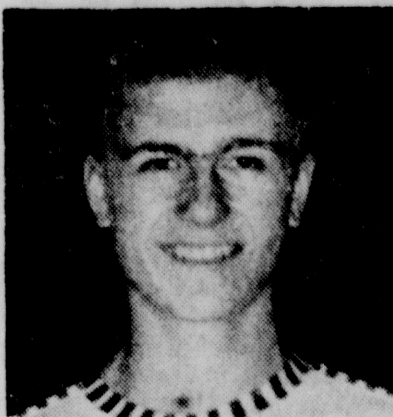

The strike by 341 members of the AFL cemetery workers and greens attendants union began March 1 after three cemetery associations rejected requests for a $2.50 daily wage increase. The present scale is $15 a day.

Nevada has a population of 91,000, the smallest in the nation.

Looking AT Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

Galatia high's ball club formed a huddle the other night and came up with the most valuable player of the year and captain for next season selections. The former honor went to this year's captain and veteran Bearcat, Bob Orto, whose hard playing, jumping and maneuvering helped lead the Farrinens to numerous conquests this past year. Orto tallied 479 points in all games and was named to the All-Conference tournament team.

Glenn Clarida

Glenn Clarida, a junior, was elected to captain the Galatia quintet throughout next year's battles. Clarida earned himself a berth on this year's Bearcat five by his persistent fighting spirit, rebounding and all-around team play. Clarida will be the lone member of Galatia's starting five around next year.

Graduation this Spring will take Orto, Joe Upchurch, Jack Fowler, Sammy Duane and Don Hill, thus leaving quite a job cut out for Coach Bob Farris. Besides Clarida, and barring any unforeseen incidents, Farris will have Lawrence Imboden, John Tate, Larry Manker and Ronnie Gray back from this year's squad. All of the seniors, with the exception of Hill, have lettered three years in basketball.

In these three years, Galatia has established an overall conference record of 43 victories against six losses. They have won three straight conference tournament championships, placed second in the conference twice and won the event the other time. When Galatia carried off the conference title this year, it was the first time in seven years the Bearcats had accomplished the feat, despite their fine record. The last time they won the loop title, it was known as the Little Egyptian conference.

Galatia's record, all games considered, for the past three years is 57 triumphs, 21 losses. In each of the three years, they have lost seven games. However, their victory record is 18, 19 and 20 for the various seasons. This year's squad boasted one of the best 1-2-3 scoring punches in all southern Illinois. Upchurch led the way with 493 points for the season. Orto was second with 479 and Duane third with 325.

Coach Farris is not one to sit idle, hoping that next year's crew develops into another winning basketball team. Indicative of this is the fact that spring basketball practice is underway this week at the school. Eighth graders are participating in the sessions as well as holdovers and second team members. The state high school rules permit basketball practice until the state tournament ends. Next week, school officials are recognizing the faithful endeavors of the five senior boys by taking them to the State tournament.

Thompsonville, winners of the Little Egyptian conference, placed two boys on the all-conference team selected Monday night. They were Jim Logsdon and Jack Simpson, both seniors. It was the second straight year Simpson had been so honored. Other members of the first team were: Jim Sohn, Royalton; Harold Hill, Crab Orchard; and Dave Simpson, Valer. Thompsonville's Bob Isaacs was listed among the honorable mentioned.

Rupp Suffers Heart Attacks

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky basketball coach Adolph Rupp, who suffered a series of heart attacks Tuesday, will follow his physician's advice to take "a lot of rest," his wife said today.

Rupp was taken ill after Kentucky's 63-56 win over Louisiana State at Nashville, Tenn., in a special playoff game for the Southeastern Conference championship. It was after that game that Rupp declined to accept an NCAA tournament berth for the Wildcats because the team's three top stars were ruled ineligible.

Roberts and Simmons Sharp In Training Tilts

By United Press
Manager Steve O'Neill's prediction that Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons will provide the Philadelphia Phillies with 45 victories this year looked today like the understatement of the spring training season.

O'Neill's $500,000, "two-man staff," easily the strongest 1-2 pitching punch in the National league, is rounding into splendid shape. It seems certain now that Steve will have both Roberts and Simmons razor-sharp for opening day—a luxury the Phillies have enjoyed only once in the last three years.

Roberts, a 23-game winner last season, shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers with four hits for five innings in his spring debut Wednesday night while Simmons limited the Detroit Tigers to one hit in a five-inning stint only 24 hours earlier. Simmons had a 16-13 record last season although sidelined with a toe injury in mid-season.

Orioles Win Fifth Straight

O'Neill's two stars combined for 37 victories in 1950, for 42 in 1952 and for 39 in 1953 but Steve feels they can do better if both remain healthy throughout the season.

Karl Drews followed Roberts to the mound Wednesday night and the Dodgers rallied at his expense for six runs and a 6-6 tie in the eighth inning. They won, 7-6, in the 11th when Wayne Belardi singled with the bases filled.

The surprise and surprising Baltimore Orioles, meanwhile, rolled to their fifth straight Grapefruit league victory when a single and a homer by rookie Jim Fridge produced both runs in a 2-1 win over the Cleveland Indians. The homer was the fourth in five games for Fridge, who hit .293 for San Antonio last season after being cast off by the Indians.

Harry Byrd, obtained in a big winter deal with the Philadelphia Athletics, pitched three hitless innings as the New York Yankees shaded the Washington Senators, 4-3. Jim McDonald also pitched three scoreless innings for the world champions and Mickey Mantle made his spring debut when he walked as a pinch-hitter.

Kiner Hits Two Homers

Ralph Kiner, overweight but hitting hotly, clouded two home runs to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 10-7 triumph over the New York Giants. Giant pitchers now have yielded a total of 65 runs in five games, an average of 13 per game. They've given up 16 homers in the five games.

Little Bobby Shantz, the American league's most valuable player in 1952 when he had a 24-7 record, was belted for three runs in three innings for a disappointing spring debut but the Philadelphia Athletics rallied to beat the Cincinnati Redlegs, 4-3, and remain undefeated.

Around the camps: Standout pitching continued to compensate for the loss of Ted Williams' bat as the Boston Red Sox downed the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2. Sid Gordon and Frank Thomas hit successive homers off Billy Hoelt as the Pittsburgh Pirates scored an 8-1 decision over the Detroit Tigers. They've beaten the Tigers three straight.

about it? Well, G. happens to stand for Geraldine . . . and also "girl" in this case . . . and it's unusual enough to rate some space in the current issue of Life magazine. Geraldine stands 5 feet 5 and weighs 130 pounds. The team is 50% better when she plays, says Coach Irving Kuklin. "When Sacred Heart school last month objected to playing against a girl, Geraldine sat out most of the game and Avoca lost," says Life. Allow ed to play during a return game, Geraldine set up most of her team's baskets and led Avoca to a 33-32 victory.

All of which reminds us that back in the late twenties and early thirties, we remember seeing some high school cage teams in action that were coached by women. Well, with the teacher shortage continuing, who knows, it may get back to that.

Mt. Carmel and Mounds Douglass To Play Tonight

Mt. Vernon Coasts To Victory After Close First Half

The Mt. Vernon Rams last night smashed through for 60 points the last half to take an 89-67 decision from the Metropolis Trojans in the first game of the Harrisburg sectional basketball meet and tonight at eight o'clock Mt. Carmel will meet Mounds Douglass to determine which plays the Rams in the finals tomorrow night.

The Rams found the Trojans tough the first half but came through with a strong third quarter that broke the Metropolis back and coasted to a comfortable win the final period. In winning Mt. Vernon piled up a sensational 60 points the last half, holding Metropolis to 37, not bad for an ordinary ball game.

A good-sized crowd was on hand to see the opener although there were plenty of vacant seats in the spacious gymnasium. Apparently many Mt. Vernonites figured they would win easily and would save themselves for an anticipated tangle with the Mt. Carmel Aces in the Friday night finals.

Metropolis Leads at Half

And the fans from Jefferson county got their scare in the first half. In fact, Metropolis, with Fred Gillespie connecting for seven points, went ahead 15-10 at the quarter and with three minutes remaining in the second period led by nine points, 27-18.

But the lads from Massac could not stand prosperity. They went about the ball game in those last three minutes like there was a minute left in the contest and they were five points behind. As a consequence, they got themselves outscored 11 to 3 during the three-minute period and led only 30 to 29 at halftime.

Mt. Vernon came out strong the third quarter and outscored the boys from the south 24 to 9. Metropolis joined the Rams on the scoring spree in the final period and made 28 points while the winners were making 36.

Metropolis has a tall junior forward in Dwight Barfield, who could make any team in southern Illinois. Barfield, besides playing a good floor game, drove in very nicely for his shots and came up with the night's best total, 29.

Aces Favored Tonight

Closely behind him were the two Mt. Vernon boys, Albert Avant and Larry Whitlock. Avant probably was the best man on the floor with his all-around play and the 6-4 Whitlock used his height to great advantage the last half in scoring.

Tonight the fans will get their first opportunity of the year to see Mt. Carmel's great Archie Dees in action. This 6-8 lad is quite a ball player, both on offense and defense. The Aces will be playing a very good club from Mounds Douglass but have been stamped the favorite to win.

Last night's session was well-covered. There were newsmen covering from Mt. Vernon, Metropolis, Mt. Carmel, Cairo and the Southern Illinoisan of Herrin-Carbondale-Murphysboro as well as the press of the county, and four radio stations were in action.

5 Slot Machines Seized in Raid

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—State police headquarters today reported a St. Clair county gambling raid netted five slot machines Wednesday night.

Capt. Walter Eichen and Lt. Elza Brantley led the raid on the Forest Inn, three miles south of Marissa on Ill. 13. State Police Chief Phil M. Brown said the establishment was operated by Rose Willens, Marissa.

Brown said the machines seized included two 5-cent slot machines, two 10-cent machines and one 50-cent machine.

Pinckneyville, Mt. Vernon, Quincy Sweep to Opening Wins in Sectional Play

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Pinckneyville, Quincy, Rockford East and most other favorites swept aside foes Wednesday night as opening games were fired in 15 Illinois prep basketball sectional tournaments.

The opening round will be completed with one more game in each tourney tonight. Winners of the games Wednesday night and to-night clash Friday night for berths in the state finals at Champaign next week.

Victors Wednesday night were Barrington, Hartwey, Danville, Mount Vernon, Quincy, Ottawa, Bowen, Cumberland, Peoria Central, Rockford East, Springfield, Sterling, Decatur, Pinckneyville and Edwardsville.

Most games followed the form sheet closely, with the winning margins ranging as high as 30 points. Springfield and Harvey had the toughest jobs pulling their victories out of the fire.

Springfield Wins Upset

Springfield's Senators staged a mild upset in squeaking by highly regarded Bloomington Trinity, 48-46. Paced by guard Pete Beardsley's 17 points, the Solons took a meager lead early in the game and managed to hold onto it to the final gun.

Springfield now has won nine games in 27 contests. Before tourney play opened, the Senators had but five victories.

Aurora East gave favored Thornton a scare in the Aurora sectional but Harvey outlasted the challengers and won 69-65. Harvey has racked up 22 wins in 28 starts.

Paris failed in its bid for a trip to Champaign after a long drought, losing to up-and-coming Cumberland 68-55 at Olney. Little Cumberland has suffered only two defeats in 31 games, one of them to Paris in a previous engagement.

District Champs Wins

Bowen, one of two district champs still surviving, registered the most lopsided triumph, smashing Joy 85-55 at Macomb. The Bulldogs, who now sport a 29-2 record, advance to the finals against the winner of tonight's Galesburg-Corpus Christi Monmouth game.

Pinckneyville ramblled to a 33-35 win over Benton in the West Frankfort sectional, the Panthers' 29th win in 31 outings. Pinckneyville ranked as No. 2 team in downstate Illinois in the final United Press ratings, behind La Grange.

Ace center Tom Payne dumped in 30 points to highlight Quincy's 66-40 whipping of Griggsville at Jacksonville. The Blue Devils marched to a 12-4 first period lead and never were headed.

Equality High School Honor Roll

The following is the honor roll for the Equality Township high school for the fourth six weeks period:

Stay Beautiful
...by avoiding
Monthly Look

No tell-tale signs on her face because cramps, jitters, bother her no more. Why look older, worn out, jittery for 2 or 3 days each month? Why let everybody know your "line" is here? Thousands of smart girls and women take a little Cardui each day to help build new energy and resistance. They look, act, sleep better, feel less and less misery each month. Some even go through periods without pain after a while. Stay lovely all month—ask your dealer for Cardui. (Says "card-you-ee").

CARDUI MONTHLY CRAMPS CHANGE OF LIFE

Highest honors — Edith Hamilton, Caroline Thacker, Joyce Brinkley, Joann Hancock, Rita Hines, Marcella Bradley, Sandra Colbert, Carol Coyle, Bernadine Hamilton.
Honors — Barney Barnett, Edward Blake, Barbara Fuhr, Dorothy Harbison, Shirley Moore, Cecil Wiltshire, Rita Womack, Orvin Baldwin, Barbara Fink, Helen Mahan, Shirley McCluskey, Bonnie Stille, Joyce Brooks, Guynella Carnahan, Leda Jo Fink, Marshall Glover, Regina Locklar, Marjetta Mahan, Mary Lou Mann, Vivian Millikan, Mary Lou Moore, Harlene Moore, Gale Thacker, Sue Vinyard, Sue Wargel, Robert Elliott, Jimmie Harbison, Louise McMurtry, Dephane Walters.

Girl Scouts to Observe 42nd Birthday on March 12; 360 Take Part in County Program

GIRL SCOUTS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY—On March 7 some 2,000 Girl Scouts throughout the United States started a week's celebration commemorating their 42nd birthday. It's a time for fun, but it's also a time when they can show grownups many of the things they do all year long, as shown in pictures below. Also included in the week-long celebration is a day of religious worship, and a homemaking day, when proud Scouts who have learned to sew, bake, cook and shop will demonstrate new skills to their parents. There also will be a good citizenship day and a day devoted to safety and health.

Two million Girl Scouts of the U. S. will be lighting birthday cakes on March 12 to celebrate their 42nd anniversary.

Carrying out their theme—"Know Your Neighbor—Know Your Nation," Scouts visit government and civic centers in their cities.

For months, the girls have been filling their "Kits for Korea." During Girl Scout Week, the bags will be gathered for shipment.

March 12 is the 42nd birthday of the Girl Scouts of America, organized by Juliette Low, in Savannah, Ga., with six girls. Now the organization has a membership of more than 2,500,000 girls in the United States—as well as millions more in 70 other countries of the world.

Saline county now has 12 Intermediate troops (girls from 10 to 14) with 187 girls registered, and 13 Brownie troops (girls from 7 to 10) with 173 girls registered. Fifty-three women are registered as leaders of these girls and 52 women and one man are registered as members of troop committees. These are usually parents, who aid the leaders in any way they can. There are 12 members of the executive board, and eight adults who are members of standing committees. Two men are members of the executive board, and two men are members of the finance committee.

Since 1951 when the Harrisburg Council was reorganized as an area council, the Saline County, Illinois, Council of Girl Scouts, scouting for girls has increased from eight to 17 troops in Harrisburg, five in Eldorado, and three in Carrier Mills. Another troop in Eldorado is about ready to register.

The Saline County Council is composed of all registered adults, leaders, troop committee members, board members, and standing committee members.

The council offers a very worthwhile program for the youngsters and at a moderate cost to them and to the community as a whole. There are NO paid workers. Last year more than 100 Brownies attended a 4-day Brownie Day camp, and 73 Intermediate girls had a week of troop camping at Dixon Springs. This year, the day camp is to be repeated, and the organization hopes to have two sessions of troop camping at Dixon Springs instead of one.

The yearly finance drive is on. Also, in company with the other 2,500,000 Girl Scouts in the U. S., they are now engaged in the annual cookie sale.

Abandon Attempt to Recover Bodies of 16 Killed in Plane

NICE, France (AP)—Attempts to recover the bodies of 16 Americans killed in a C-47 plane crash and buried under ice and snow 9,000 feet up on "Three Man Peak" were abandoned today until spring. Provincial authorities reported that rescue teams had made no further progress toward getting out the bodies.
The plane, off course on a flight from Rome to Bitburg, Germany, slammed into a cleft near the peak last week, killing all of the 20 persons aboard. An avalanche caused by the crash heaped tons of snow and rock on the wreckage. Only four bodies were recovered.

You're Never Too Old To Start Walking

KENT, O. (AP)—The youth of today has been given a mark to shoot at by 73-year-old Fred Heritage.

He has walked 10 miles to and from work for the past two years, shovels sand while on the job and keeps 100 chickens.

Heritage drove a horse and buggy until 1949 when a careless motorist ran into his surrey and killed the horse. Neighbors presented him with another horse, but his wife prevailed upon him not to drive because the new horse had a tendency to rear.

"The exercise helps me keep my health," Heritage said, "and, I like to walk."

He figures he has hoofed about 7,500 miles, the past two years coming and going from his job at a sand company.

First state to abandon capital punishment was Michigan.

Heavy Water

A one-inch rainfall on an acre of ground would amount to 3630 cubic feet of water and, since each cubic foot of pure water weighs approximately 62.4 pounds, the amount of this water would be 113 tons.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

REVIVAL SPEAKER. Rev. Joseph L. Milligan of Birmingham, Ala., will be evangelist for revival services to begin Sunday, March 14, at the Church of God, 515 S. Land street. Earns Better Names

An Indian is not limited to one name all his life. His birth name is used until he wins a tribal name. This is given to him by a chief, and he must accept it. However, he is given many chances to improve his standing, and each additional feat of bravery brings him a better name.

State in Sound Condition: Hollingsworth

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Stratton's top financial advisor has painted an optimistic picture in his first semi-annual report on the "closely-drawn" 1953-55 state budget.

State Finance Director Morton H. Hollingsworth says his first semi-annual report on the budget indicates the state is in sounder condition than even he or the governor had hoped.

State income for the first six months was slightly better than their early 1953 estimates, while state spending totaled well below authorized levels.

"I knew our payroll was in good shape," Stratton commented. "But I wasn't sure we could live within our estimates on commodity buying until I got the report on the first six months—it should be a good forecast of our spending in the final 18 months."

See Less Revenue

Some state officials were cautious, however, about predicting the first quarterly report would set the trend for the biennium.

They pointed out that an economic dip could mean less sales tax revenue and a greater relief load, and that heavy or light state buying in the final quarter of the previous biennium was reflected in the report.

The report showed general revenue income totaled 25.2 per cent of the biennium estimate during the six months. State spending

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois
Thursday, March 11, 1954 Page Three, Section Two from general revenue sources was only about 23 per cent of biennium appropriations.

From general revenue comes the money to operate the constitutional offices, provide aid and welfare services, and aid to common schools and high education.

Will Dig Into Surplus

Appropriations from general revenue for fiscal 1953-55 total $713,535,949, of which $162,663,722 was spent in the first quarter. Estimated general revenue income for the biennium was $636,000,000, and $160,365,715 was actually collected from July through December.

Of $1,565,544,000 in the total budget, which also included the highway program, federally financed projects and other items, a sum of $348,406,915 was either spent or obligated in the first six months.

This is 22.3 per cent.

The general revenue budget will be balanced, as it has since 1947, by digging into unappropriated resources, the so-called treasury "surplus."

Come A-Smokin'

by Nelson Rye

Green deployed his crew with the aplomb of a master strategist. Not guessing there was anybody hidden in the house, and assuming it would draw the bulk of Crafin's fire-power, he kept his bunch away from it. One man he bedded beneath the sun-curved slats of a rickety wagon that was falling apart across the yard from the barn. Another was sent into the saddle shed which flanked the same side of the house as the wagon. A third took up his stand in the bunkhouse and the last he fetched into the barn with himself.

"Let them get right into the yard," he called, "then give it to 'em."

From the house Usher, hugging his rifle, had seen and heard everything which had happened in the yard. Not even when Marratt suddenly folded and pitched groundward under the bludgeoning impact of a swung pistol barrel did Luke put finger to trigger.

Naome lashed at him fiercely, and would have snatched the gun from his holster had he not slapped her hand away.

Luke said with tired patience, "They came here on Gainer's orders to blast Crafin's outfit which, by the simple expedient of last night burning all your dad's fancy buildings, Gainer—"

"He burned Wineglass?"

"Sure but he made Crafin think it was Marratt that did it. So now Crafin's hog-wild to stop Marratt's clock. He'll be showin' up with all the toughs he can gather. Soon as the guns start crackin'—if you'll promise to do as I tell you—I'll slip out and get Marratt loose."

"Who is Marratt?" she asked.

"He's a guy with one chip in a no-limit game. Hold my rifle," he growled and, when she took it, went off through the hall, coming back with an armful of pillows and bedclothes which he dropped on the sofa. There was an extra shell belt and pistol strapped about his lean hips now.

"They've carried him into the barn," Naome whispered.

"What I figured," he took back his rifle. "Set down on that sofa. Wad all that stuff I brought between you and the back of it; this is like to be rough when that lead gets to flyin'."

"But if he's not Jake's son why would he let people think he is? And why," she asked desperately, "would he be carrying on Luke's crazy feud with my father?"

"The trouble between him and your old man hasn't anything to do with this ranch."

Something about his way of saying that caught her notice and she looked at him oddly, searching his face with a kind of baffled wonder. And then, again taken up with her own worries, "Do you suppose Dad would possibly decide to ride over here with Crafin?"

"Not a chance! He's too—" Usher broke it off, listening. "They're coming!"

It was the pounding of the guns which battered Marratt back to consciousness. He imagined the tumultuous crash-crashing must take the top of his head off surely.

and then the black rage that was bottled inside him began to make itself manifest, clawing his shuddering mind from its hiding. He opened his eyes and the cares of the past became again present problems.

He'd been dumped on the floor of a cobwebby box stall, trussed like a plucked fowl ready for the basting. From the bend of their knees his legs were drawn taut behind him with a length of rope passed around his windpipe. The least pressure on this arrangement fetched excruciating pain. To prevent any chance of an outcry he'd been gagged. Green had been thorough. He had had Marratt's wrists yanked around behind him and securely lashed across the arch of his insteps.

The gun racket which had roused him seemed about to have spent itself and was now dwindled away to the random noise of snipers. A man's voice near the front of the barn said jubilantly, "Reckon that about does her, Gus—ain't a one of that bunch even wrigglin'."

Green's voice, nearer Marratt, cautioned, "You don't know that. Give the sun a quarter hour to get in its licks then we'll go and have a look at 'em."

In his need to get loose Marratt thought of the dog which, according to Usher, had been tied up in this barn. But he couldn't hear any sound of it, not even the stertorous sound of its panting.

As though great minds were frequenting the same channel, the fellow up front said, "If you hadn't bashed that dog's head in we could send him out there."

Green merely grunted. Time commenced most abominably to drag.

Marratt's mouth, parched and searable with the gag they'd crammed in it, longed for water. His whole racked body cried out for it and a pair of buzzing flies, playing tag through the dust motes, abruptly settled on his face and commenced to crawl over it.

Marratt presently got the feeling there was somebody watching him. It bothered him almost as much as the flies did, and he wondered if it were Green making up his mind what to do with him. No matter what role Gainer's scheming had assigned him they had no real reason for keeping him alive now. They could knock him off any time and be rid of the risk his tongue represented. It was their obvious course now they'd got rid of Crafin.

Swimming Swine

Wild pigs found on some Bahama islands are not strictly land-based like the domesticated swine of the United States. They often go to sea, swimming from island to island in search of food or to escape the dogs of huntsmen or natives.
